

Golf courses frequently use controlled release nutrient sources – more so than other ag sectors.